

IARC MONOGRAPHS ON THE EVALUATION OF CARCINOGENIC RISKS TO HUMANS

VOLUME 92
SOME NON-HETEROCYCLIC POLYCYCLIC AROMATIC
HYDROCARBONS AND SOME RELATED EXPOSURES

Lyon, 11–18 October 2005

LIST OF PARTICIPANTS

Working Group Members^{1,2}

Janet Arey, Air Pollution Research Center, University of California–Riverside, Riverside, CA 92521, USA (Subgroup Chair, Exposure Data)

Frederick A. Beland, Division of Biochemical Toxicology (HTF-110), National Center for Toxicological Research, 3900 NCTR Road, Jefferson, Arkansas 72079-9502, USA (Subgroup Chair, Cancer in Experimental Animals)

Jürgen Borlak, Center of Pharmacology and Toxicology, Medical School of Hannover, Fraunhofer Institute of Toxicology and Experimental Medicine, Nikolai-Fuchs-Strasse 1, D-30625 Hannover, Germany

Ercole Cavalieri³, Eppley Cancer Institute, University of Nebraska Medical Center, Nebraska Medical Center, Omaha, NE 68198-6805, USA

Victor J. Feron, TNO Quality of Life (retired), Utrechtseweg 48, NL-3704 HE Zeist, The Netherlands

¹ Working Group Members and Invited Specialists serve in their individual capacities as scientists and not as representatives of their government or any organization with which they are affiliated. Affiliations are provided for identification purposes only.

² NOTE: Minor pertinent interests are not listed. Examples of minor interests include stock valued at no more than US$10 000 overall, research grants that provide no more than 5% of the unit's research budget, and consulting and speaking engagements, on matters not related to courts or government agencies, that do not exceed 2% of time or compensation. All consulting or speaking on matters before a court or government agency is listed as a significant pertinent interest.

³ Dr Cavalieri has dissociated himself from this volume, having concluded that radical cations play the major role in the initiation of carcinogenesis by benzo[a]pyrene, dibenzo[a,l]pyrene, and 7,12-dimethylbenz[a]anthracene and that depurinating adducts are the major actors in the initiation of carcinogenesis by these three compounds.
